About The Project:

This project was designed as the final project for the second commercial design course. The course primarily focused on hospitality and restaurant design. The restaurant name is NonLa that was taken from Vietnamese traditional hats.

This high-end restaurant is located in Coquitlam Centre. This project was inspired by the thought that Vancouver does not have many high-end Vietnamese restaurants. Currently, there are “Anh va Chi” and “Bonjour Vietnam bistro” that follow a high-end concept and have a design concept for their space.

CONCEPT:

Tropical and Modern are the main concept of this restaurant.

NonLa (the name of project) will be played with tropical green color, combined bamboo material that represent symbol of Vietnam.

In addition, gold will be secondary color that would be decorated around restaurant as well as high light and represent high end level of this restaurant.

Non La (Vietnamese traditional hat) will be easy to find in restaurant as pendant light as feature at Bar and Dining area 1. The multiple painting wall about Vietnamese countryside will be featured wall in privated room and featured ceiling in lough seating area.
