call me an androgin

The argentinian Mica Arganaraz and her lifestyle as a model, is making history in the world of fashion specifically since the day she decided to send her homemade photos to a modeling agency without knowing that her life was about to change.

"I'm open to smiling a bit more now. I was never very good at that. I am more confident that I don't look like a cheese ball!"

"My relationship with the camera changed when I became an adult. Some of the pictures I did as a pre-teen bother me. I hate the idea of anyone looking at my child pictures in a way that isn't appropriate."

MATE WEARS RAINCOAT ZARA. JUMPSUIT ZARA AND GLASSES BLENDERS.

Mate Mora, 28, modelling for 11 years How many shoots have you appeared in? I've lost count. 900 plus. How has your relationship to the camera changed you as you've matured into a woman? Learning my angles and the lighting, where the camera is and where my body moves. What do you think about when you're in front of the camera? What's for lunch! How do you hope to come across? Strong and confident. What are the differences between being shot by a female photographer rather than a male? Being shot by a female photographer can be more intimate because we are both women and understand things differently. It's interesting to see how different sexes view beauty. What are your tips for making it in the industry? Work your ass off and enjoy the ride. MATE WEARS SHIRT MING AND ZARA BEANI.

"Modelling has a lot to offer but its important to remember its a buisness, so always be professional and don't take things personally." MATE WEARS ZARA SHIRT.

MATE WEARS SHIRT GAP, SKIRT FOREVER 21, ADIDAS SHOES, PULL AND BEAR CAP.
"How has your relationship to the camera changed as you've matured into a woman? I'm more vulnerable and present. What are the differences between male and female photographers? I look for wonders that inspire me and look at challenges to bring me growth. Life would be boring if it were one-dimensional."
