Inspiration

For my kidswear collection, i was inspired by Playing Card. A playing card is a piece of plastic thin coated paper that is marked with distinguished motifs. Often the front (face) and back of each card has a finish to make handling easier. They are most commonly used for playing card games, and are also used to perform magic tricks, for cardistry, in card throwing, and for building card houses. Some types of cards such as tarot cards are also used for divination. The standard 52-card deck is known and used internationally. Playing cards were first invented in China during the Tang dynasty around the 9th century AD as a result of the usage of woodblock printing technology.

Playing cards arrived in Europe in the late 14th century, and decks differed greatly depending on where they were produced. There were inconsistent numbers of cards and design, although all decks had suits made up of court cards and numbered cards. Eventually, as card-playing in Europe became more widespread, the decks were mass-produced with stencils and always included 52 cards, the same number a deck includes now.

Down through the centuries, the figures in the court cards of Pierre Marechal of Rouen—kings, queens, and jacks (have been dressed in the medieval clothing that was original to the 15th-century designs of the French.

i choose the 52 French-suited decks as my inspiration, because this type of card is commonly used around the world. It has a four symbols : Love (means hearts), Spades (means warn of death), Clubs (means Desire for Knowledge), and Diamonds (means passion for wealth). Each of this symbols have 10 cards (1-10) + 1 ace, king, queen, jack, and joker (but ther is no of 4 symbols) interesting facts : the 4 Kings from heart, club, spade, and diamond :

King of Spades: David, King of Israel from the Old Testament

King of Clubs: Alexander the Great, King of Macedonia, who conquered a vast region and lived from 356 to 323 BCE.

King of Hearts: Charlemagne, King of France and the first Holy Roman Emperor, who lived from 747 to 814 AD.

King of Diamonds: Roman Caesar Augustus. Some sources say the king of diamonds is Julius Caesar, not Augustus.

Moodboard

Concept

Playing cards is fun to play, colorful, and have a lots of pattern and motifs. So for this project, i want my kidswear collection to be preppy, but still fun and colorful. I use some ornaments, the pattern, and the silhouette from diamond queen, spades jack, club queen, heart king, and the combination from 4 symbols. i use red, white, black, blue (as the details), and yellow color to represent the color from playing cards. i also use beading, hand embroidery, quilting, and laser cut for the details. my kidswear collection is suitable for fall winter season. But it can be worn at summer too (some of them).
