Hi! This is Carlos and here is a little more about me:

If I have to start describing myself I would say that I'm creative, curious but also a little bit distracted, to be honest...

I live in Barcelona and I work in fashion. I finished my studies in fashion design in 2017 at LCI Barcelona. After that, at the beginning of 2021, I wanted to keep learning so I decided to study Visual Merchandising and Window Display. Before that and after school, I did Architecture but this was before I came to Spain.

During my trajectory in fashion world, I've had the opportunity to be in different places with personal projects. In 2017 I visited China, walking as invited designer in Mercedes Benz Fashion Week Beijing, China; where I won the excellence award for my collection.

At the end of the same year, I was invited as designer for the runway and an exhibition about my work in Post Industrial Fashion Experience event, in Barcelona,

Later, in 2018, I was at the Open Area in LCI Barcelona. There was an exhibition about my final project in my career.

In the same year, I was involved in a fashion project called Inkrush, where we had the opportunity to present our different collections in different places and different editions into the Mercedes Benz platform, visiting cities like Madrid and Milan. Also aside of Mercedes Benz, we also visited more places in Spain like Bilbao and Barcelona.

Into the fashion, I also had the opportunity to work as assistant in production and quality control, and this job brought me more knowledge in fashion and I learned more things about the creative process, as well a lot of things about the start of the designing process, to prevent mistakes in the future and problems in the process until the final product.

Out of design and production, I've been working in different areas, like sales assistant, graphic designer, pattern maker and sewing garments. All these jobs taught me more things to also know the clients and their needs.

I want to keep growing as a person and as a designer in my profession I want to work and learn everything I could and more.

I'm sure I can be the person you are looking for and I would love to be provided with such an amazing opportunity from you. If you want to see more about my work, you can find me in my Behance and my linkedin in the next links:
