Mediterranean Inspired Fashion

Simplicity, sophistication, and oftentimes stripes are the ever-present fashion trinity that has accompanied Europeans down cobblestone streets for centuries. Luckily, our world is much smaller these days. Jet-setters and the style-savvy have brought their recognizable style abroad.

Current favourites

Boutique showcasing some of the beautiful photos we took a few weeks ago when Kara's niece who's a photographer was in town from Arizona. I have 3 darling looks to show you starting with the high expectations of the black jumpsuit. The details of this romper are truly what make a solid black garment so special.

Summer Accessories

When it comes to summer , I think a lot of us omit these elements of style and we don't want a lot of additional "stuff" around to maintain, making us even hotter. The summer accessory game by showing you a few of my favorites from Karadise Boutique to make summer style functional and fashionable, starting with bags

Printed Canvas Bag

Bags come in a variety of colors (light pink, dark pink, and turquoise) and lay completely flat when empty which is easy to pack. The soft burlap straps sit comfortably on your shoulder when toting towels, sunscreen, a change of clothes, a book and whatever else you like to have pool or beachside.

A Guide to Paradise

The absolute highlight of Santorini, however, is Oia. The city is on the northern tip.

A Sunny Side Tote

A sunny side tote is another option when needing a beach style bag for the summer. This one is just a touch more “dressy” than the printed canvas beach bag, but essentially can function the same. Not only does the Sunny Side Tote come in both black and beige.

Sheer Mass Dresses

Anyone else here get frustrated when all your stuff falls out the second you set your bag down. This tote can certainly be used at the beach or pool, but is chic enough to use as an everyday handbag.

Add Some Color

On the lookout for the perfect dress, it can quickly happen that you are overwhelmed by the sheer mass of choices (scroll 2 hours and at the end you throw everything out of the shopping basket). But my list comes to the rescue! I have put together my absolute favorites for you here. Everything in two price ranges - so let's go, have a look and get inspired!

Wear a “stack” of colorful bracelets with bright tassels for additional pop. The best thing about these at Karadise is they look like a stack, but it’s really just one bracelet, making accessorizing a breeze! Don’t neglect your summer accessories just because it’s hot.

The Aurora Dress

And finally, a simple beaded necklace like this one has just the right amount of color and neutral so it can be paired with basically anything. Head over to Karadise toda to stock up on these darling additions to your wardrobe.
