

TRENDS

SPRING/SUMMER '21

DISCOVER
THIS SEASON
FASHION

MEET CANADIAN INDUSTRY
WORKERS

WOMAN

simply divine

THE STATEMENT MINISKIRT

The miniskirt continues to gain commercial popularity as an alternative to the ubiquitous midi style.

Invest in #matchingsets for easy separates appeal – a #staycation win.

1960-inspired looks are key, updated in soft luxe leathers and retro inspired geos.

Use the mini as a blank canvas to highlight the season's important details, from soft peplums and ruffled styles to structured wrapped silhouettes.

NET - A - PORTER

The world's premier online luxury fashion desina-

ready, set,

SHOP!

FENDI
Cat Eye Sunglasses
$344

MELISSA JOY MANNING
Diamond Earring
$825

LAURA LOMBARDI
Gold Plated
Necklace
$265

TEMPERLEY LONDON
Embroidered Printed
Shirt
$538

MIGUELINA
Crochet Trimmed
Linen Bralette
$407

CHARO RUIZ
Anglaise Cotton
Blend Miniskirt
$441

CULT GAIA
Leather Sandals
$492

CANADIAN INDUSTRY WORKERS

Brooklyn-based Aurora James maintains the spirit of Africa with traditional footwear handcrafted in village workshops, empowering and creating jobs for people across the continent. Winner of the 2015 CFDA/VOGUE Fashion Fund. CFDA Award Nominee 2018 & 2016. Vogue Talents Award Winner 2016.

Born and raised in Montreal, Cary Tauben began his prolific career at the age of 20. At the age of 21 he took the position of Fashion Editor for Dress To Kill Magazine and has since accomplished more in his young short career than most seasoned stylists. Cary progressively built a reputation for portraying both gritty realism, hard-edged minimalism and graphic modernity that has landed him at the forefront

From the suburbs of Montreal, Ca., Marie-Ève Lecavalier has transform her subculture and sociology fascination into design projects. Meanwhile her fashion studies at UQAM (Montreal), she worked as a research assistant for Ying Gao and did an internship at Alexander Wang (New York).

