Immersed in the synthesis of everyday life of the Colombian Caribbean, which seems frozen in time with their colors, flavors and traditions, we enter the life of a woman motivated by the exaltation of their roots through movement.

Personified by the effortless sophisticated, Alejandra Torres, Lola dances to live, lives to love and loves to laugh and find happiness in the place where she was born, under the philosophy that the body of the dancer is the purest expression of the soul and inner beauty.

Lola

Here is a woman that finds freedom through the expression of her body movements, Surrounded and rooted on her traditions and the exaltation of the culture of her hometown in the caribbean coast of Colombia.
