

Matelasse

Matelasse is woven in a technique that was developed to mimic the style of handcrafted quilts made in the south of France. Originally woven by hand with four sets of yarn on jacquard looms, matelasse has a quilted appearance without any additional padding.

Characteristic:

- THICK
- PUFF
- HEAVY
- DURABLE

Because the double-woven technique produced a sturdy material, many early examples of matelasse have survived in excellent condition and are on display in textile museums and private collections. Most of these pieces are woven from cotton or linen in.

Matelassé fabrics are suitable for the window and on upholstered furniture and also bedding such as duvets, coverlets, bed skirts, and pillowcases. With designs ranging anywhere from traditional damasks to medallions, stripes and geometrics, this fabric style will add dimension to your space and blend perfectly with any home décor.
